ABOUT ME

I'm a Full-Stack Web Developer with hands-on experience in developing dynamic, responsive web applications using the MERN stack along with PHP, Python, MySQL, Shopify and WordPress. I'm passionate about writing clean, scalable code and continuously enhancing my skills to stay current in today's rapidly evolving tech landscape.

From intuitive front-end interfaces to robust back-end systems, I enjoy the full development cycle—designing responsive UIs, building RESTful APIs, and optimizing databases to deliver efficient, real-world solutions. I take pride in being detail-oriented, adaptable, and eager to learn from every project and team I collaborate with.
